Stories of our Sons

These are the stories of our fathers
These are the stories of our sons
By a kinship we are tethered
By a friendship we unite as one
Each year the eldest lot of children
Turn into men before our eyes
We rely on them to safeguard their families
We know they will rise
We don’t let drawbacks defeat us

We won’t let differences divide
In one unending chain of brothers
We come together tonight
These are the stories of our fathers

These are the stories of our sons
By a kinship we are tethered
By a friendship we unite as one

© Shayna Toh 2017