Hipster

Music & Lyrics by: Jackson Teeley

Piano / Vocal Score

Lila

Behind all the formal the high waisted denim the wildly long untrimmed hair, large ugly sweater the big chunky scarf and pre-scriptionless glasses I wear, is someone who has fallen through and might be much more than she seems. Be - yond all the causes the shopping at thrift stores the trendy yet old fixed gear bike, the cult classic movies the underground music of bands that I don't really like, is on - ly me who might just be a girl who has put up a wall and knows that without it she'll fall.

And even if you were my one and only.

even if you told me you'd be there.

the thing I have learned in love is it's Hipster and be too cool to care.

And

with all things vintage, organic, and liberal the cigarettes, coffee, and beer, the dodging convention and dotting pretension of life on the indie frontier, is something fake which I can't shake that's difficult to disregard.

'Cause

once you're devout it's so tough to get out of the life style of trying too hard.

And even if you were my one and
only,

and you said you'd never pass me by, the thing that I know so well is it's better just to be a hipster and just embrace the irony that you and me could'nt ever be a pair 'cause what I've learned when love's concerned is it's safer not to share 'cause the music and fashion, the dogmas and passion for shunning the norms that have been. is

P/V "Arrowhead" - 11 -
P/V "Arrowhead"

173 174 175 176

all just a show as the ironies grow since it's 177 178 179 180

all just a way to fit in, and 181 182 183 184

Quasi tempo

I have long since given in...

185 186 187 188

And even if you were my one and
on - ly

I would call it noth - ing but a dream

and no mat - ter what should come I sup - pose I'll always be a hipster, cause love is so main -

A little slower than A Tempo stream.