Look to the sky. Don't say goodbye to the world you've left behind you. There's adventure for the taking for as long as you should stay. But adventure isn't always as it seems.
Not the way it was in my

Time to Fly
Lyrics: Gretchen Midgley
Music: John Henderson
In tempo

Time to Fly

#9

Time to let the dreaming go and face the world awake.

I've lived so long in child's dreams,

but there's now a choice to make.

I could stay locked up forever in a land of just pretend, but locked up's not where I belong.

That's not how this will end. There's no more room for fear because the time is here though I don't know how or why.

No time to turn a-way. It's time—

'th, 'cause it's time it's time to fly!

Time to look up-ong the firl—you knew and let her fall away. A new one stands here in her place.

It seems she's here to stay. I don't want to be the hero. Did 'nt ask to be the one who lets go of all she dreamed of.
Dm11

48

48

over just as it's begun.

51

Never been so alone

51

never so much

54

unknown, and I cannot see the sky

54

But time to reach with -

Time to Fly
This is where you begin 'cause it's time it's time to fly! Can't give thought to every way it could all go wrong. What mat ters is that now you put things right

Per haps you knew you'd have to do this all a long,

knew it from the mo ment you took flight.
Hear how the future
calls and see it past these walls.
This is how I say good-bye.
It's time to hold on It's tight.

Time for one last flight, 'cause it's time, yes it's time to fly.

Gb Bbm D/F Gb Db/F A 9(#11)/E

to fly, to fly!