I tell a tale of war and a man who was forced by Fate a woman's hate expelled and exiled.

He fled his home shore long days by both land and sea bore and by the gods' command he reached the promised land.