Rome

Marisa Wexler

Well here I am locked inside this cozy cage Prisoner of bad finance and my old age Look at me lost at sea

Such a textbook travesty I'm denied by destiny

Still I have my fantasies I know it's silly I always want-ed to see Rome ev-ery arch each mausoleum I wanted to see Rome vis-\text{it the} crumbling colosseum I wanted to see Rome so much to see Rome time  I spent doing what I could  To get by

And of course some parts were good  Raise the kids pay the bills  Part time jobs to make ends meet I made my way but every day, I was walking down the same damn street, I was sure I wanted more.

from life, Than being a mother and a wife, Call me crazy.

Call me er and a wife being a moth from life Than meet more sure
I want ed I was damn street the same down kids ing I was walk every day my way but I made

If I could fly somehow I'd be there right now I'd see all the sights and every night I'd dine on wine and cheese.

I would get to know Michelangelo And Leonardo Davinci.
I'd get on I dreamed that so see France And be so pret
